A Shorter Workday Asked, Consecu. tive Hours of Labor, Vestionles for Bad Wenther, and Abolition of A meeting of the members of Division

No. 161, of the Amalgamated Association Street Railwaymen of America, was the purpose of agitating a shorter work-day for the employes of the Washington Traction and Electric Company. The members of the organization ask that urs of labor shall be reduced from eleven to nine hours each day, which is the number of hours, it is said, the em-ployes of the Capital Traction Company are required to work. The wages, $2 per day, it is said, is paid by both corpora-

The meeting was attended by street rallroad men employed on the eleven branches of the Washington Traction and Electric Company. The meeting was what is known as an "open session," and was conducted by James E. McCracken, President of the Rallwaymen's Union, with George Heil as secretary.

Besides a reduction in the hours of la-bor, it was explained that the members of the union also ask for other reforms to which they contend they are justly entitled. They demand that all motor cars shall be vestibuled, that "rainy-day puli-ins" shall be stopped, and to abolish "trippers," or extras. Some time ago a committee from the union called upon the superintendent of the Washington Traction and Electric Company, it is said, and requested that all motor cars be vestibuled for the protection of the motor-men in bad weather. The committee was informed, so it is stated, that the company could not vestibule the cars on all its branches, but would improve those which are run on the Connecticut Ave-ber tracks. Twenty vestibuled motor cars are said to have been ordered for use on that line.

The particular complaint made by the employes of the Washington Traction and Electric Company, however, is against the hours of labor, and the manner in which the time is divided. It is stated that each motorman and conductor is compelled to work eleven hours a day for $2, but these hours are not always consecutive, sometimes the whole time having

From the time the first car leaves the barn in the morning at 5 o'clock until the last is run in after midnight is about the last is run in after midnight is about twenty and one-half hours. It is further explained that as all the cars do not leave the barns at the same time nor return at the same hour only a few men are employed early and late. It is contended that the whole time of running the cars could easily be divided into two shifts of inhe hours each, the same as done by the Capital Traction Company. Part of the Truns' which are known as "swings" begin at 7 a. m. and end at 10 a. m. The men who manage these trips are then laid off until about 2:20 p. m., when they are stopped. In such cases the motormen and conductors, who are endeavoring to earn $\mathbb{E}$ per day, are compelled to stop work and be paid at the rate of 18 cents for each trip they have made.

The meeting was addressed by J. L. Rodier and H. G. Brooke, of Columbia Typographical Union, John H. Brinkman, formerly secretary of the Central Labor Union, and others, all of whom endorsed the movement for shorter hours.

TEGELER SUBMITS AT LAST.

He Gives Up the Attempt to Secure a Habeas Corpus.

Robert G. Tegeler, a coal passer in the United States Navy, yesterday decided that he would abide by the decision of a recent court-martial and go to Norfolk, where he will serve out the remainder of the sentence imposed upon him. Tegeler brought into the courts the question of whether an officer of a State naval militia has the right to command a sailor of the regular navy. At the court-martial, from the decision of which he appealed, he was sentenced to three months imprisonment and forfeiture of pay. He has since been trying to obtain a writ of habeas corpus, but yesterday abandoned the attempt. He will serve out the remainder of his sentence on the prison ship Southerland at Norfolk.

Tegeler was arraigned some months ago on the charge of insubordination, at the request of Lieutenant Commander Sherbourne G. Hopkins, of the Naval Batter request of Lieutenant Commanders and a position further west will so of the many received at this office in which the writer hastens to condemn and abuse before he reflects upon the situation, or, in fact, has time to ascertain the true facts of the case. when owing to some complication in another part of the proposed line the work was temporarily discontinued pending the adjustment of the aforesaid differences.

"Owing to the absence of alieys, as a general rule, in the squares of Georgetowa, and the costliness of conduits, it is absolutely necessary for the District Government to maintain and extend its signal telephone and police patrol system by the use of poles erected upon the streets, and as the appropriation for such extension. as the appropriation for such extension and maintenance is none too large for the growing needs of the community, and, further, as it is very expensive to construct a large and extensive pole line for the purpose of maintaining a few necessary wires, it is the policy of this department to use the poles of other comanies as far as possible or engage in thorized the subject was presented to the Attorney for the District, who rendered an affirmative opinion upon the following salient features of the case, to wit:

"1-That the District of Columbia can erect poles on the streets of the City of ngton and string wires thereon. "2-That the District of Columbia can string wires along the streets of the City of Washington on its own existing poles That the telephone company can use existing poles of, or poles to be erected by, the District of Columbia on streets of the City of Washington, stringing the of Columbia of poles on (a) streets, and (b) in alleys of the City of Washington.

"It is thus apparent that the proposed poles are to be erected legally and after mature deliberation. The proposed line will necessitate the erection of eight poles, four on streets and four in alleys or on private property, right-of-way over which has been secured by the telephone company. Thus a long line will be established with the minimum amount of discomfort at the barns ten minutes before the time scheduled for the departure of the first car in the morning. If none of the regular carses, the "tripper" does not get an opportunity to make a trip. Notwithstanding this, however, it is said the "tripper" must remain at the barn until (32) p. m. without pay.

The Commissioners have issued an order providing that the time for comple-tion of contract 2909, with M. F. McNamara & Co., for the construction of sewer along Connecticut Avenue extended, between Nourse Road and Pierce's Mill Road, be extended for a period of sixty days, or until November 5, 1901, without penalty, but cost of inspection during ex-tended period to be charged to contractor.

A. H. S. Davis, in charge of the public dumps, has reported to the Superintendent of the Sirect Cleaning Department of the District an assault upon Dumpman Fitzgerald by negroes hauling material to the dump on South Capitol Street, between P and Q Streets. He suggests that the dumpmen be clothed with police authortect them from the vicious attacks of negroes.

Mr. Davis says that the dumpmen are frequently attacked by lawless and worthless negroes who are employed in hauting refuse whenever the former attempt to tell them where to dispose of their loads in the case of Fluggerald, Mr. Davis says, was set mon by four negro women. in the case of Fitzgeraid, Mr. Davis says, he was set upon by four negro women, who assaulted him with bricks, treaking one of his ribs and severely bruising one of his rabs and severely bruising one of his hands. Mr. Davis is of the opinion that if the dumpmen were given authority to make arrests and could show a badge of such authority they would not be attacked. He says that the dumpmen are careful and do not provoke quarrels.

Warner Stutler, the Superintendent of Street Cleaning, in forwarding the above report to the Commissioners states that owing to the character of those who haul refuse to the public dumps it is necessary that some sort of protection be given the men who watch the dumps and try to keep good order there. He adverse the suggestion made by Mr. Davis and asks the Commissioners to give the dumpmen police authority.

Commissioner Ross yesterday referred the matter to the Superintendent of Police for consideration and report. Warner Stutler, the Superintendent of

TO BUY A HOME FOR PARKER.

A Suggestion for the Reward of the Quick-Witted Colored Mgs.

Considerable interest is being taken in the plan proposed by the Rev. Theophilus Stewart, chaplain of the Twenty-fifth United States Infantry, to start a fund for the purchase of a home in Washington for James B. Parker, the colored man whose prompt action at the time of the attack upon President McKinley last week is credited with preventing the anarchist from firing a third shot.

It has been decided by a committee appointed at a meeting in the Metropolitan A. M. E. Church, of this city. Tuesday evening, that the local newspapers be requested to receive contributions to the fund. A considerable amount has already been subscribed. The committee in charge of the fund consists of Prof. William H. H. Hart, Prof. William H. H. Richards, Mrs. Mary C. Terrell, Rev. Dr. Garner, and H. E. Baker. for James B. Parker, the colored man leged Accompliee Also Taken. John E. Wilkie, Chief of the United States Secret Service, received information yesterday of the arrest at Camden, N. J., of a woman counterfeiter, whose house and workshop was directly opposite the residence of Chicf of Police Foster. Molds, counterfeit coin, and material for making the coin were found in the bouse. The molds were hidden in a stove. The prisoner said that her name is Susie Slater, and that she is thirty-six years old. The house in which she was enptured is The house in which she was captured is 288 Pine Street. The arrest was made by Secret Service Detective Matthew Griffin. The woman made counterfeit dimes and quarters from plaster of parts moids. She also manufactured the moids, and put the faise money into circulation with the assistance of eight small children. Many persons had complained to the police that they had received counterfeit money, and City Detective Painter, of Camden, N. J., had been at work on the case for some time. He finally discovered that the bad money was being passed by children, and they were traced to the house at 28 Pine Street. When the house was raided yesterday only the Slater woman and two of the children were captured.

The woman was taken before United States Commissioner Morgan. She confessed her guilt, and was held for trial. The children were held as witnesses.

Being implicated in the above charge of making and passing counterfeit money, James J, Slater was arrested at Lancaster, Pa., yesterday and taken to Camden, N. J. 248 Pine Street. The arrest was made by Month's Work. At the monthly meeting of the board of directors of the Eastern Dispensary and Casualty Hospital, located at 217 Delaware Avenue northeast, the reports of the resident physician showed that the month of August has been an exceedingly busy one at that institution.

During the month there were treated 194 emergency cases, in 91 of which it was necessary to perform operations, and of the patients were sent to the wards. The dispensary report shows that 179 persons applied for free treatment, of whom 63 were refused, as they were not provided with the necessary certificates, leaving 11s who were treated. Of these 31 were colored and 25 white persons, and there were 85 medical and 31 surgical cases, and 15 operations in the dispensary. There were 28 revisits, 173 surgical redressings, and 530 prescriptions compounded in the pharmacy.

The board members present were T. W. Smith, President; H. K. Simpson, Secretary; George F. Harbin, Treasurer, and Drs. John R. Wellington, Jesse Suit, L. K. Beatty, George C. Clark, and Noble P. Barnes. It was decided to give a series of euchre parties and other entertainments for the benefit of the hospital fund, and to reorganize the board of lady managers and the guild.
